FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Congressman Colin Allred to Headline Arizona List's "Men for Arizona List" Events in Tucson and Phoenix

Phoenix, AZ, Saturday, June 7, Arizona List will host a two-city event series bringing together men and women who support reproductive justice. Special guest former Congressman Colin Allred will join supporters in Tucson and Phoenix to help build momentum in the fight for abortion access and democracy in Arizona.

Colin Allred's journey from the NFL to Congress is a testament to resilience and purpose. After a career-ending injury, he became a civil rights attorney, served in the Obama administration working on affordable housing, and flipped a congressional seat in Texas from red to blue. He now dedicates his work to pushing back against extremist agendas and sees Arizona as a critical battleground.

As a Congressman, Colin spoke about the dire situation for women in Texas: "Texans' freedoms are under attack, and that includes the freedom to get the health care you need — including an abortion. I will fight to restore those freedoms.."

Arizona List is proud to welcome Allred as part of its Men for Arizona List campaign, which highlights male allies who are helping lead the fight for reproductive justice. The events will also spotlight the local candidates Arizona List is working to elect in 2025.

In Tucson, Arizona List has endorsed two candidates for City Council: Miranda Schubert in Ward 6 and Selina Barajas in Ward 5. Both women bring deep community experience and a strong commitment to equity and public service. In Tempe, Arizona List is supporting three incumbent councilmembers running for reelection: Berdetta Hodge, Arlene Chin, and Jennifer Adams, each of whom has demonstrated consistent leadership on issues like housing, sustainability, and reproductive rights.
